Plans Outlined to Improve Route 330
Governor Reveals$6,000,000 Modernization
Would Be Spread Out
Over Several Years

Governor Dwight H. Green opened an extensive 10-day inspection tour of Illinois by announcing today that the state highway division has outlined a plan for gradual modernization of the original Lincoln Highway, U. S. highway 330, heavily traveled east-west route between Geneva and Sterling.

The governor estimated at $6,000,000 the ultimate cost of the improvements, including rebuilding and straightening and re-allocating certain sections of the old highway. He said it would be necessary to spread the project over a period of years and did not reveal when it could be started.

Gov. Green arrived in Dixon at noon on his inspection tour of the Lincoln Highway from Geneva to Sterling, accompanied by an almost mile-long automobile caravan and a 15 minute stop was made at the Hotel Nachusa where the governor spoke from the porch.

Factory whistles blew and bells rang to announce the arrival of the governor while at the historic hotel, officers and members of Co. A, I. R. M., formed an honor guard at the entrance. The Dixon Municipal band played several numbers upon the arrival and departure of the distinguished guest. In the open car, in which the governor rode, were Walter Rosenfield, director of public works and buildings; Senator Charles Baker of Monroe Center, John Manning of Rochelle, president of the Lincoln Highway Association and O. F. Goeke of this city, chief highway engineer in the first district. Several members of the state police formed an escort for the governor's party.

Along the route from Geneva to Sterling, Governor Green was greeted by huge throngs, as he stopped briefly to make short talks. He and his party and those interested in the modernization of the historic highway were scheduled to attend a luncheon at the Coliseum in Sterling at noon and at 2 o'clock the governor was to deliver his address at the Grandon Center. Immediately after the visit in Sterling Governor Green planned to proceed to Princeton to visit Senator Charles Gunning, veteran member of the senate who is confined to his bed by illness. He will return to Dixon later in the afternoon to play a round of golf at the Dixon Country club, then proceed to the Pines state park where he will spend the night.

Mavor William Slothower presented Governor Green at the noon meeting here which was attended by several hundred persons. Acknowledging the reception, the governor expressed his pleasure at being able to again visit Dixon on this mission, in which the modernization and improvement of the Lincoln Highway is the topic of interest.

Entitled to Consideration

"It has always been one of my mottoes to render service to the people of Illinois," Governor Green said. "In this instance I believe that they are doubly entitled to this consideration in the

Mystery of Flight of 47 Russians to States Unexplained

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Alaskans in this far northern settlement speculated today on the possibility that the group of 47 uncommunicative Russians who arrived here Sunday night in two flying boats would ferry American-built warplanes back to their embattled homeland.

The takeoff of the two big ships, en route to Washington, D. C., was expected today, weather permitting, despite official silence on that subject and all other aspects of the mystery flight over "the roof of the world."

Russian Consul Fedotoff arrived from Washington, via Fairbanks, late yesterday and went into conference with General Mikhail Gromov, commander of the expedition and one of the soviet's outstanding airmen.

The speculation of Alaskans over the possibility of the men ferrying airplanes back to Russia was based on the fact that most of them appeared to be aviators.

In Washington, D. C., some quarters were reported as indicating that the mission might be largely of technicians, coming to look over the latest American planes and to discuss technical problems.

Exhibition

St. Charles, Ill., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Governor Dwight H. Green, who played in a soft ball contest last week at Canton and hit a game-winning three base hit, put on a special performance last night.

The governor attended a softball tournament in connection with the annual St. Charles Festival and the crowd called for an exhibition of his hitting prowess.

And the governor obliged. With State Senator Arnold P. Benson of Batavia pitching, Green lashed out two solid hits.

Souvenir hunters surged onto the field to scramble for the balls.

Senate Committee
Meets to Vote on Largest Tax Bill

Washington, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The senate finance committee formally approved the record-breaking tax bill today and sent it on to the senate for debate tomorrow.

The bill, biggest yield in history, was estimated by the treasury to produce $3,672,400,000 and by Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the finance group to yield approximately $4,500,000,000.

Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis), a committee member, told reporters he would file a minority report criticizing the measure. George announced that Senator Clark (D-Mo) reserved the right to file a minority report in opposition to the committee's decision to broaden the income tax base by lowering personal income deductions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) reserved the right to report in opposition to a committee amendment prohibiting husbands and wives in the so-called community property states from dividing income in an effort to lower their taxes.

Chairman Optimistic

George said that if his calculations of $4,500,000,000 yield proved correct, federal revenues would approach $15,000,000,000 next year.

Although several controversial items may develop considerable senate debate, George appeared optimistic that the revenue measure would be approved by next Saturday night. He said that if the bill—carrying $456,400,000 more than the treasury-estimated house total—were passed in substantially its present form there would be little difficulty in adjusting senate changes when a joint conference committee considers the measure.

Controversial Points

Topping the list of senate committee changes was an amendment to cut from $2,000 to $1,500 the income exemption for married persons and from $800 to $750 the exemption for single persons.

Other controversial points were:

The provision eliminating the right of husbands and wives in the eight community property states—Louisiana, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Idaho, Washington and Nevada—to split incomes in filing their returns, a procedure which means lower taxes in many instances; and

The provision sharply increasing the excise levies on some manufactured articles.

Still another potential time consumer was the proposal by Senator Downey (D-Calif.) to write into the tax measure a $30-a-month pension for persons over 60, starting in 1944. The committee refused to incorporate this in the bill, but Downey threatens to raise it on the floor.

626 Persons Killed in Accidents or By Violence in NationToll of Week-End Three-Day Holiday Exceeds Council Estimates

By The Associated Press

Six hundred twenty six persons were killed in accidents or by other violence over the holiday week-end, 423 of them in highway traffic, heavy with home-bound vacationists and tourists on their final outing of the summer.

An Associated Press survey showed today 73 drowned and 130 died in shootings, stabbings, falls, fires, airplane accidents and by other violent means.

The traffic toll compared with a prediction by the National Safety Council that 600 persons, or 180 more than on a normal summer week-end, would be killed in traffic between 6 P. M. Friday and midnight Monday.

The council's forecast, however, included those injured in holiday crashes who might die later.

Deaths from all violent causes over the Labor week-end a year ago totaled 514.

Four States Without Deaths

Only four states—Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming—reported no traffic deaths over the weekend.

The automobile fatalities included Robert L. Ramsay, Jr., son of Rep. Ramsay (D-W. Va.) who was thrown from a sideswiped car near Rockland, Md.

Near LaJunta, Colo., a bumper fell from an automobile. The car's wheels hurled it through a window of a passing car where it struck and killed a 10-year-old girl passenger.

California led in traffic accident deaths with 46. Ohio had 28 and Illinois 27. Michigan had the most drownings, 15, and Ohio the most fatalities from miscellaneous causes, 13.

Deaths by states in traffic, by drowning and by other causes, in that order, included: Illinois, 29, 11; Indiana, 21, 0, 1; Iowa, 18, 0, 1; Michigan, 20, 15, 4; Missouri, 9, 1, 3; Ohio, 28, 6, 13; Wisconsin, 13, 3, 0.

TRAGEDIES IN ILLINOIS

(By The Associated Press)

Death in various forms of violence took the lives of at least 43 persons in Illinois during the extended Labor Day week-end.

Traffic accidents claimed 27 victims as motorists crowded streets and highways. Five others drowned and miscellaneous causes—falls, shooting, stabbings, etc.—

John Borg, Alone
in World, Suicide

John Borg, 83, who had been a resident of Dixon for about 60 years, suicided by hanging himself to the railing of the stairs leading to the basement of his home, 1620 First street, at an early hour Sunday morning, Mrs. Allan P. Read and daughter, Miss Olive P. Read, who lived at 8-30 o'clock Sunday morning, and the latter who entered through a window discovered the lifeless body and notified the police.

Borg, for a number of years, was employed as hostler at the Read livery stable of years ago, and for the past several months, Mrs. Read had been looking after him. He came to Dixon from Sweden as a young man and had lived here since.

Patrolmen Seagren and Jones answered the call Sunday morning when called to the Borg home and Coroner Frank E. Nangle of Paw Paw was notified. An inquest was conducted following which the jury rendered a verdict of death due to hanging with suicidal intent. The aged man had been dead for about three hours and left no note explaining the cause of his act.

Funeral services were held at the Preston funeral home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. W. E. Thompson, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, officiating and interment was in Oakwood.

Japan Seethes as Internal Struggle
Over Status Grows

The War Today!

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

We ought to hear a bit more from the Tokyo government before attaching too much finality to the rather fiery declaration by a spokesman of the Japanese army that Nippon will if necessary use force to fight her way out of what she terms encirclement by America, Britain, Russia and other nations.

This statement was broadcast by Colonel Mabuchi, chief of the army press section of imperial headquarters, who asserted that Japan was determined to carry out her Asiatic program even if it meant "a long-term war against Britain and America." Now that is very blunt language and it would be a mistake to underestimate Japan's determination in this crisis.

Still, one suspects that the colonel was blowing his trumpet not so much with the idea that the walls of Jericho would fall as that he might strengthen Japan's hand in the projected negotiations in Washington.

Had the colonel and his military superiors been better advised as to the present temper of the American government toward the Japanese maneuvers in the Orient, probably the fighting speech would have been left undelivered. However, it perhaps will do no harm. Indeed, some observers thought President Roosevelt may have avoided reference to the Far Eastern situation in his Labor Day broadcast in order to give diplomacy a chance to achieve an agreement.

The weakness of the Mabuchi statement to my mind is that if the United States, Britain and Russia were trying to encircle Japan, she would have small chance of fighting her way out by force. The encirclement which Japan fears is quite as much economic as military.

You may destroy an enemy warship with a 16-inch gun. But a shell won't demolish her way. If Japan gets herself involved in a war with the United States, Britain and Russia she will cut herself off from essential supplies and from trade upon which her very life depends.

Few would doubt the bravery of the Japanese in battle, or their ability to absorb punishment. The cold truth is, however, that no matter how great Nippon's determination might be, she couldn't fight her way out of encirclement, because forsooth there's no place to which she could fight her way. The countries whose cooperation she vitally needs right now are, first, America, and after that, Britain.

Of course, if Japan could establish military supremacy throughout the far east, she ultimately might repair her economic fortunes and make herself more or less self-sustaining through absorption of such rich territories as the Dutch East Indies and development of China.

However, Japan's position now is critical and must be remedied immediately. She hasn't time to carry out such an extensive program because she hasn't the resources.

Delay in repairing her fortunes may spell disaster for the island empire. Already she is in serious straits because of the trade restrictions applied by Washington, and to a less extent by London. Relief from that must come by agreement and not by gunfire.

There is no doubt that Tokyo recognizes this fully, and the indications are that the Japanese government wants to make terms with America in the forthcoming negotiations, despite the talk of war. So long as this attitude continues, there is hope of a peaceful adjustment.

BY THE WAY

Muscovites and Hitlerites today continued to issue conflicting claims of the disaster being inflicted on the other fellow. The significant point of this bloody

Extremists, Moderates Battle for Control

Japan was reported reliably today to be in the throes of internal struggle between German-aided extremists and realistic moderates over how best to achieve the unchallenged Oriental dominance which Japanese regard as their ordained world role.

According to reliable foreigners, including axis nationals, arriving at Shanghai, the seething situation behind Tokyo's censorship may develop one or more of the following:

1. Japanese action in the Pacific or a new move on the Asiatic continent; the former might be a thrust against the Netherlands East Indies and the latter a move against Thailand or Vladivostok, Russia's Pacific gateway for receipts of war supplies from the United States.

2. Overthrow of the present Kono government, possibly by force.

3. Reapprochement with the United States and Britain, desired by the realistic moderates as a breathing spell pending hope for eventual American-British acceptance of the Japanese expansionist policy.

The last would represent a victory for the present moderating influences in the Kono government; the first two a victory for the extremists, notably the military clique, which, according to the Shanghai arrivals, is under pressure and even demands from German advisers for a Japan challenge to the United States, Britain and Russia.

Realists See Catastrophe

Realistic Japanese leaders were pictured as sure that Japan would face a catastrophe defeat if she makes that challenge.

The shipment of American war supplies to Russia via Vladivostok—the first shipload of aviation gasoline is now nearing that port—has brought Japan to the cross-roads of her policy. What she will do beyond her present representations against the Vladivostok shipments is the big question.

With the battle of Russia again pivoting on Leningrad and with the Germans checked if not actually on the defensive along the rest of the sprawling front, international attention, centered on Japan.

Informed German quarters said the most advanced German units in the Leningrad drive were standing before Krasnogvardeisk, 20 miles southwest of the great industrial city.

In the south, Rumanian troops were declared by DNE to be besieging the main waterworks of Odessa, besieged Black sea port.

For the fifth consecutive day the Red army pictured the front as stabilized, Germany's deep-spearheading panzer divisions finally brought to heel. The Germans themselves shifted emphasis to their air force, reporting it had spanned far beyond the Dnieper for its first attack on Crimea while also helping to forge a ring of steel around Leningrad.

Berlin reports conveyed the impression that the battle for Russia's second city, at the head of the Gulf of Finland, focus of both German and Finnish force, was nearing its climax. But the Germans have spoken thus before.

F. D. R. Avoids Jap Issues

President Roosevelt's avoidance of the touchy Japanese situation in his Labor Day speech, an omission generally accepted as evidence of a desire not to impair current diplomatic negotiations with Japan, was matched by no such reticence in Tokyo.

There an army spokesman declared that Japan would use force if necessary to break "encirclement" by the United States, Britain and other nations, and a foreign office spokesman indicated that Japan was renewing representations to Washington of her concern over American shipment of war supplies to Russia through Vladivostok, the soviet union's Pacific port of entry on the Sea of Japan.

Concurrently Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, director of the powerful Asia Development Federation, disclosed that Premier Prince Kono had agreed to consider a proposal to set up a "safety zone" embracing the ocean area adjacent to the Japanese islands.

Betty Smith Didn't
Start School Today

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Betty Smith won't start her sophomore year today at South Chicago high school.

Instead the 15-year-old girl was dead—the victim of what Detective John Dorgan said was suicide motivated by a quarrel with a 16-year-old boy friend, Edward Bearby.

The youth, who said he had been seeing Betty for about a week, told the detective he had upbraided her yesterday at the beach because she teased him, pulled his hair and threw sand at him.

When he got home, he said, he penned a note, informing the girl that "I won't be seeing you in school tomorrow or any other time. In other words, this is the last goodbye, x x x I don't like girls who fool around a lot."

He dispatched a friend with the note, told him to wait for an answer. But, when after 15 minutes, none was forthcoming the messenger returned to Bearby.

In Betty's house, they told Dorgan, they found Betty, a bullet from her uncle's deer rifle had passed through her chest. The gun was nearby.

Heavy Uniforms, Dogs, Collapsible
Egg Crates, Snow Peeve Carriers

Los Angeles, Sept. 2.—(AP)—What peevs postmen?

Hot uniforms, dogs, snow and collapsible egg crates, among other things.

Resolutions dealing with those four items are before the National Association of Letter Carriers, in convention here.

One urges substitution of gray cotton trousers and sports shirts with open collars for the present summer garment of "long sleeves, button collars, tight neckties and woolen trousers".

Another asks that the postoffice department do something about owners of dogs who bite postmen.

A third requests that postmasters be authorized to refuse delivery of mail to persons who do not have sidewalks cleared within 12 hours after a snowstorm.

(The North Dakota and Wisconsin delegations are responsible for this one.)

A fourth suggests regulations making metal containers mandatory, contending that collapsible egg crates too often collapse, injuring the mail carrier, his clothing and other items of mail.

Dixon Officer With 33rd Division Taken Captive Labor Day

Lt. Col. Sherwood Dixon Captured by Kotmks on Arkansas Highway

Lieut. Col. Sherwood Dixon of Dixon, commanding the 2nd battalion, 129th Infantry, has been a wartime "casualty" and prisoner and is now awaiting his next deplacement. Labor Day news dispatches from Prescott, Ark., stated.

Early in the 7th army corps phase of maneuvers he was tagged a casualty by umpires. In the final exercise, Col. Dixon was driving down a road in his command car when the Red Kotmks captured him.

The Dixon lawyer is awaiting the third "strike".

With the Second Army in Arkansas, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Along miles of jungle-like swamp land bordering the Ouachita river, the two opposing forces of the Second Army felt out one another at points 50 miles apart today.

With midnight lifting the curtain on activities after a Labor-Day week-end recess, the first clash came at dawn in the vicinity of Camden. The 27th New York division, after setting up a thin defense around the east end of its pontoon bridges across the wide stream, received orders from Maj. General Robert C. Richardson, Jr., to hold the crossing "at all costs".

The Kotmk force under Maj. General Clarence S. Ridley learned of the small holding power established by the Almatians at Camden, and reconnaissance units from the 5th and 6th regular army divisions began feeling out the 27th's front line. Maj. General William N. Haskell also began to search out the strength of the Kotmks.

Bridge Repairs Ordered

The 2nd cavalry division, anxious to strike across the Ouachita river near Crossett, 50 miles south, moved into a compact concentration within ten miles of the river and prepared to advance with 11,000 men and 6,000 horses at the first opportunity.

Then in mid-morning, Maj.

General John Milliken received orders from General Ridley that the bridge over the Ouachita on highway 82—only main passage through the swamp-land in south Arkansas—was only partly destroyed. He was to repair the structure to carry most of the heavy equipment.

The cavalrymen were expected to shove across on pontoons a few miles away to set up full protection against the 35th division (Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska) massed west of the river near El Dorado.

CEDAR RAPIDS WINS TWIN BILL TO STRENGTHEN HOLD ON SECOND IN THREE-EYE

By The Associated Press

Cedar Rapids, by winning a double-header yesterday from Moline strengthened its hold on second place in the Three Eye League as third-place Decatur lost a single game to Madison. The Raiders edge over the Commies now is 3½ games.

Cedar Rapids took the first game from the Plovs, 5 to 0, and then rolled up a 9 to 4 margin in the second contest, holding a 9 to 1 edge going into the eighth. Madison cuffed the Commies, 6 to 3, with two runs in the fourth and four runs in the eighth, the latter being aided by Cafego's home run with two men on base.

Evansville, already in league champions, coasted along preparing for the opening of playoffs Sunday and lost to Clinton, 6 to 3, both teams making 10 hits. Springfield and Waterloo divided a double-header, the White Hawks taking the opener, 9 to 1, and Springfield annexing the nightcap, 5 to 3. Waterloo made all its runs in the second game on a home run by Dahlstrom with two men on base.

Wheeler Sees Fall of Democracy as Price of U. S. Entering Conflict

St. Charles, Ill., Sept. 2.—(AP)—In the view of Senator Burton K. Wheeler the total collapse of democracy will be the price exacted from this country if it participates in foreign wars.

The Montana Democrat, a leading isolationist, told a crowd at the St. Charles fall festival yesterday that:

"War will cost us democracy. Tolerance and understanding will be replaced by bigotry and prejudice. Civil rights and all our personal liberties—freedom of speech, religion, press and assembly—will be gone. Freedom will be sacrificed on the altar of war. Labor unions will be crushed and prices will be fixed."

The real enemies of the farmer and working man, he said, were those who "speak of the dignity of labor—who talk of higher wages and shorter hours—and then urge American entry into foreign war".

Senator Byrd Calls For One Man Control Defense Production

Washington, Sept. 2.—(AP)—America, in the opinion of Senator Byrd (D-Va.), has the choice of a shorter European war "providing we speed up our defense production".

Speaking on the Washington Star radio forum over NBC last night, the Virginian called for an end of strikes in defense industries, appointment of an executive head for the program, and abandonment of the "business as usual" doctrine.

At the same time he repeated his charges that the production of military material was behind schedule.

"The job of spending billions for defense is an executive one", Byrd said. "One man, the ablest citizen in America, can do a better job in executive management than a seven-man board superimposed on other boards".

Egypt's Rival Labor Unions Lay Down Their Banners For One Day

Marion, Ill., Sept. 2.—(AP)—The CIO and AFL laid aside their respective banners for the common banner of labor yesterday as unionists of Williamson, Franklin and Jackson counties joined in the annual tri-county Labor Day celebration here.

The gathering, 10,000 strong, cheered the prediction of Frank Hefferly of Denver, Colo., district president of the CIO United Mine Workers, that labor in the not too distant future would be together again under the same banner.

He credited both the CIO and AFL for the growth of organized labor from 2,500,000 to 9,000,000 members in four years, and urged all unorganized workers to affiliate with one faction or another.

During the first 11 months of 1940, 3,081,016 new passenger cars were registered in the United States as compared with 2,466,823 registered for the same period of 1939.

Psychologists Go Into Air to Learn What Flyer Needs

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Psychologists literally are going into the air with U. S. aviation forces, and making their laboratories right in cockpits of military planes.

Twenty of these flying professors and their assistants already have qualified as pilots, and others are taking flying instruction.

They are discovering queer, interesting and useful facts about what it takes to become a fighter pilot. Some of these were reported to the American Association for Applied Psychology today by Dr. John G. Jenkins, University of Maryland psychologist, now with the civil and military aviation authority and himself a doctor learning to fly.

He told of a mature psychologist, up in a plane taking flying instruction, who was unexpectedly told to make an emergency landing. He didn't know what to do but he calmly lied to his instructor about his plans.

Dr. Jenkins cited the instance as one example of emotional troubles. The one place, he explained, were a man ought not to lie at the controls of a plane, for a lie there may mean death.

The flying scientists install instruments which measure how much a man sweats, how much muscular energy he expends and other of the physical signs which may show what is going on in his mind.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 31.

The Golden Text was, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" (Romans 1:16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whether thou guest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me" (John 14: 5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Is it not a species of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony? But mortals did need this help, and Jesus pointed the way for them" (p. 494).

Standards You Can Tie To

In these days of stress and strain and uncertainty as to services and prices, it is comfortable to do business with the railroads. You can plan IN ADVANCE what you are going to spend, and you can be certain of having the service furnished at the expected price.

Such dependability, lightly regarded though it may be in times of peace and plenty, is a pearl beyond estimate when emergencies arise and the skies darken and the winds begin to blow. That is true because supply and demand have little effect on prices of railway transportation.

Uncle Sam himself has been among the first to find that out. He is coming to lean more and more heavily upon the strength of the railroads. Despite that, there has been no increase in all-rail rates on any commodity even remotely related to the national defense program.

On the contrary, there have been notable reductions. In taking over the movement of commodities ordinarily handled by water, the railroads have in many cases reduced rates below the normal all-rail basis. Crude petroleum is one timely case in point.

Nothing short of an unbearable increase in expenses is likely to cause the railroads to seek any general increase in their rates.

We of the Illinois Central pledge to Uncle Sam, as we pledge to each of his sons (and your sons and our sons) in the training camps: "WE'LL NEVER LET YOU DOWN!"

Floyd Smith, Jr. and His Bride Motor Northward

Now motoring through Wisconsin are Floyd Smith, Jr. and his bride of Sunday, the former Jeanette Pelton, Young Mr. and Mrs. Smith do not plan a long stay in the north, and will be at home after their return at 709 Second street.

Ivy-covered St. Luke's Episcopal church, at the corner of Peoria avenue and Third street, was the scene of the ceremony uniting the daughter of the Earl Peltons of 1620 Third street, and the son of the senior Floyd Smiths of 1118 Fourth street. The Rev. Father B. Norman Burke, pastor of the church, heard the vows at 4 o'clock.

White asters and gladioli decorated the altar for the ceremony. Miss Naomi Woll, organist, played the nuptial prelude.

Jeanette wore a wedding dress of white satin, with lace inserts in the sleeves and at the waist, and a full skirt that extended into a short train. Clusters of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil to her coiffure. The locket of her gold necklace, containing a photograph of her maternal grandfather, J. W. Hoyle, was worn by her grandmother as a bride, 54 years ago. The tatted-trimmed handkerchief she carried had been carried by Mrs. Arthur McBride, whose daughter was maid of honor for Sunday's ceremony, and three additional brides.

The bride's cascade bouquet contained gladioli. Mr. Pelton gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Beverly McBride, as maid of honor, was dressed in pink taffeta, trimmed with blue velvet bows. Pink asters on blue maline formed her small hat, trimmed with maline streamers. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink asters, delphiniums, and fever few.

Identical gowns of blue taffeta, with pink trim, were worn by the three bridesmaids, the Misses Mary Jane Hoberg, Alice Loosli, and Helen Kellar. They were wearing a colonial brooch at the neckline of their dresses, and carried colonial bouquets of pink asters, fever few and plume celosia. Pink maline bows trimmed their small hats of pink asters.

Howard Diebert was Floyd's best man. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Jack, Arnold Spangler and Hollis Brenner.

Mrs. Pelton wore a navy blue jacket dress with white accents for her daughter's wedding. A spray of white gladioli was pinned to the shoulder of her jacket, and a similar corsage was worn by the bridegroom's mother, who was attired in black with turquoise trim.

A reception was held in the Guild room at the church, following the ceremony. About 60 guests, including relatives from Wisconsin and Iowa, were present.

A miniature bridal couple topped the top tier of the pink and white wedding cake. Miss Marilyn Betty Hoyle, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Harold Martin, Mrs. Frank Hoyle, Mrs. Kenneth Allen, and Miss Betty Lou Martin served.

When Floyd and his bride left for the north, after the reception, Jeanette was wearing a black ensemble, trimmed with white, and black and white accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith were graduated from Dixon high school, he in '39, and she, in 1940. She has been employed at Spurgeon's, and the bridegroom is with the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

Rural School Receives Flag

John (Dad) Ford, Dixon's 96-year-old Civil war veteran, and members of the Dixon Woman's Relief corps, were special guests at the annual picnic of the Sugar Grove school on Friday. The event had been postponed from the closing day of the term in the spring because of illness among the pupils.

A picnic dinner was followed by presentation of a flag to the school. Pupils of the school presented the following program under the direction of their teacher Miss Anza Lawton:

Reading "Friendship", Miss Lawton; song, "America the Beautiful," the school; patriotic solos, Miss Virginia Dodd, accompanied by Mrs. Leon Hart; flag exercise, the students; reading, Miss Helen Butterbaugh; solos, "In My Garden" and "The Flag Goes By," Mrs. I. B. Potter, accompanied by Mrs. Hart.

The remainder of the program was presented in the school yard at the newly erected flag pole. Miss Lawton introduced Mrs. Mabel Ortigiesen, president of the ## Woman's Relief corps, who gave a short talk on patriotism.

Mrs. Moderna Jones, patriotic instructor, presented the flag to the school, and the acceptance remarks were made by Keith Swarts president of the school board. Color bearers for Mrs. Jones were Mrs. Daisy Brenner, Mrs. Ora Chapman, Mrs. Mabel Dial, and Mrs. Carolyn Boyer.

Miss Cora Person, Mrs. Meta Wilhelm, Mrs. Hattie Lebre, and Mrs. Hattie Weisz carried the flag, and it was raised to the top of the flag pole by Comrade Ford. The songs "America" and God Bless America", and the flag salute concluded the program.

The flag presented to the school was given to the Dixon Woman's Relief corps several years ago by Mrs. Clara Goodrich, who formerly resided in the Sugar Grove community.

A Thought For Today

By thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. —Matthew 12:37.

Words, however, are things; and the man who accords to his language the license to outrange his soul is controlled by the words he disdains to control. —Owen Meredith.

The Emergency Should Not Be 'Used'

The defense emergency is a national crisis. It is a national effort in which every man, woman, and child in the country has an interest. Our collective future hangs on its success.

We do not know in exactly what way the military power we are building is going to be used. We know that, the world being what it is today, a nation like our own must have such power to be safe.

The building of military power on a national scale of this kind is a national effort. It can be no less.

What does that mean? It means that it is a collective effort, an effort of all the people together for a common end. Since it is that, it follows that no one, and no group of people should use it for their individual advantage.

Strong efforts have been made to prevent profiteering. Out of this national effort, the American people do not want to see a new crop of war millionaires. Neither do the American people wish to be held up by unreasonable demands by labor groups which happen to be in a position to enforce demands.

Nobody wants to see owners and managers of great plants operate those plants at a loss, or see them stripped of proper reserves or equipment that will enable them to meet peace-time demands after the emergency has passed. That would be shortsighted.

Nobody wants to see labor caught without the ability to protect itself by proper means of keeping afloat on a life-preserver of better wages on the tide of price increases.

For either to take deliberate advantage of the need for arms in order to enforce demands out of key with such a situation is without excuse.

It is wrong for an employer to hold off from producing vital defense goods because he saw a chance to pressure the government into allowing him an extra per cent of profit since his produce was unique and badly needed. So it is wrong for a union leader to put pressure on a vital defense plant for demands not so much concerned with maintaining the workers' standards as with some matter of union politics or administration.

These are times when, for the good of all, production of defense materials must come first. All are entitled to, and should, protect themselves against undue and disproportionate hardship and sacrifice, but it is no time to use the emergency for personal or group gains that are equally out of proportion.

German Volunteers

At this distance, it is hard to guess what lies behind the German announcement that they are opening the S. S. Elite Corps to volunteers from 17 to 45.

Germany has had conscription, of course, for many years—any man in the Reich was subject to military service at the Fuehrer's will. Why volunteers at this stage of the game? It might be a publicity play to announce later a flood of volunteers, thus showing the world the great and enthusiastic support of Hitler. It might mean that among men of 45, many of whom are probably World War veterans, Hitler prefers to have in his S. S. Corps only those who volunteer. A draft of men of this age might include many who remember too well the free days of the Weimar Republic, and who are less pliable Nazis than the younger men. It might mean only that it is preferred to take men at those ages whose responsibilities are such that they can serve with minimum inconvenience. But even that suggests that industrial man-power may be short.

This is one to put aside and remember later when more information becomes available.

The French Pay

The cost of preparedness is high. Everybody is worried, and rightly so, about the increase in government debt, the cost, in money and time and sacrifice, of defense.

All roads are costly today. On the other side, take a look at France, which did not prepare well enough. Four hundred thousand francs a day France pays to Germany for the inestimable privilege of entertaining its midst a conquering, German army. How much that is in money is hard to say, because a franc today is what Berlin says it is. But you can get some idea from the fact that this annual indemnity of 146,000,000,000 francs is more than twice France's annual receipts, more than all other French expenditures.

So while it costs to prepare, it costs to be unprepared, too.

Like Norway?

As war is to be expected, German indignation waxes high at the invasion of Iran by the British and Russians.

Says the Boersen Zeitung, "a classical case of brutal attack on a neutral state which had done everything to prevent war and respect the interests of third parties and dedicated itself entirely toward peaceful international reconstruction."

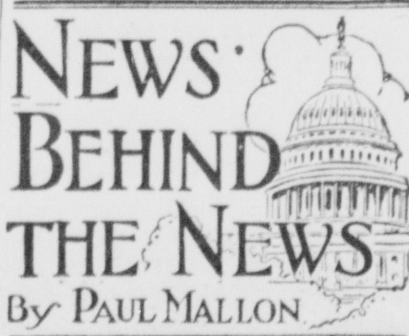

How good a description of Iran that is, we don't know, but it certainly sounds like a perfect description of Norway.

Building Skills

Defense training courses were building increased skill in 642,600 persons on June 30, according to the Office for Emergency Management.

That includes 90,000 training for jobs, 145,000 training on the job for better jobs, 270,000 unemployed youth taking vocational training, and 137,000 in the engineering defense courses.

Not only in lands, money, and resources lies the wealth of a people, but also in the total of its skills and abilities. Here again we are building assets not only for the current defense program but for the future.

Washington. — The Chinese got excited a few days back over something they heard in London workable understanding for peace in the Far East with messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill. They let out one shriek of "appeasement!" but immediately thereafter, subsidizing the state department here sat sternly on the lid of news about the matter to see what the Japs would offer.

Apparently Tokyo gave every evidence of being serious in these initial suggestions. Those few American statesmen who were in with Roosevelt on what was developing were very much encouraged at the start.

If a Far East peace agreement restoring China could be established - - at the expense say of the French holdings there, and perhaps some other small territory, plus a guarantee of oil from the Dutch - - it might hit Hitler mighty hard. This was what was in the wind the Japs were stirring. Details and good faith were naturally the most important parts of any bargain they might make to get out of China, and Officials here proceeded with utmost caution.

The Japanese just cannot stand up against Britain and the United States, their best customer, the way they are going - - and they may know it. A genuine deal with them, bearing none of the silly aspects of another Munich, might release perhaps 200,000 British troops and the bulk of the American fleet.

The powers-that-be here have sounded one Frank E. McKinney, the Indianapolis investment banker and McNutt friend, on whether he would accept chairmanship of the Securities Exchange Commission. The sounding was done in Indianapolis by an undersecretary from Washington. McKinney was not strong for it, but may weaken. Apparently S. E. chairman Eicher is to get his long delayed judgeship and leave a vacancy there.

First thing the new committee chairman investigating the Ickes oil control policy? Senator Maloney did was to have lunch with the Ickes assistant, his old pal, Interior Under-Secretary Dempsey. Within two hours after the inquiry was authorized Dempsey and Maloney were at the lunch table. They served in the house before Dempsey became a guardian for Ickes and Maloney became a senator.

While this was not an auspicious start, the inquiry is expected to be conducted vigorously. Maloney is interested because vacation travel in New England was injured by the government storage campaign, and workers in Connecticut defense industries use cars to get to and from work.

Screaming to high heaven against the new restrictive quotas on automobile manufacturing is one of the newly re-animated companies, Willys-Overland. Its noises have so far been only polite and private to OPM, but there is reason to believe it has demanded the first public hearing of the defense regime to present its case about being squeezed out by the larger companies.

The OPM auto priorities (Chairman James S. Adams) told the companies how many cars they could produce in an effort to save raw materials. They based their allowances on production of the last three years.

The Willys people have not done a lot in the last three years, but they have a new light five passenger car which they claim uses one-third less of defense materials than other auto (steel, copper, rubber, aluminum) and yet performs the same service. By wide awake management they are launching it as a defense car, figuring naturally that if OPM wanted to cut down the use of raw materials, it would cut down the use of raw materials, not just the number of automobiles produced.

There may be trouble but OPM's answer will be that Willys was out only 7 per cent, while the larger companies suffered 27.6 per cent, even if the basis of computation did not get down to the bedrock problem of raw materials.

Price Restraint Leon Henderson neglected to tell whether his fixed gasoline figures were higher or lower than the current market price before the recent increases, but a check indicates they are lower. A comparison of the same retail straight gas prices July 15 (compiled by the bureau of labor statistics) with those fixed by Henderson at four points show:

	Fixed	July 15 August 27
Boston .....	17.5c	17.7c
New York .....	19	18.9
Philadelphia .....	18	18.5
Baltimore .....	17.4	18.2

So this would qualify the latest price boosts, which some dealers in these areas had put into effect (amounting to as much as 3 cents a gallon) on their own without a justifiable, authorized wholesale price increase.

Roosevelt exhibited some dissatisfaction with the way defense production is going, when he shifted the directing heads on OPM around. But there is greater dissatisfaction over defense production inside OPM than has yet reached Roosevelt, more than his shift will cure.

A very loyal Roosevelt clan, knowing the facts as well as any one is, is just simply convinced the production schedule itself does not measure up to the size of the task of arming this army efficiently, and supplying the British. New vigorous concepts are needed. There must be more sub-contracting, reorganization of procurement in the war department, perhaps many other changes. This is not an isolated viewpoint, but a whole broad inner conviction of a great number of defense sub-officials.

The main fault seems to be that our needs were fixed by the war department, and the war department is interested mainly in equipping the army, not in British aid. The two goals have not been fitted together. A long term production schedule has been projected into the future, but on a warped basis, which is either going to leave our army or the British short of what is required at once.

It would not be surprising if Roosevelt does some more readjusting of the defense layout along these lines shortly.

Take tanks. Every time anyone says publicly anything about the slowness with which our army and the British are getting American tanks, the war department comes up with some elegant figures. They always say umpty-um number of tanks have been turned out and umpty-um will be turned out next month.

But these are always light tanks. They are not the new heavy fighting models. They have long been in production. The French campaign showed the light tank is not an efficient fighting weapon with which to face the Nazis. The armor is too thin. The Balkan campaign absolutely proved it. They are still good for reconnaissance and meeting tanks of their own weight but they cannot stand against a 37 millimeter gun. Mass production of these tanks is not going to get anybody anywhere against Nazi opposition.

The publicized production figure of this type of tank—the only we are getting in quantities—sounds good, but does not mean anything.

The medium size tank is what is needed, the 26-ton tank, which eventually weigh about 30 tons.

British military officials have said, as a result of the lessons of the Russian campaign, that any invasion of the continent will require 30,000 tanks—mostly mediums, some large.

Well, we produced about 50 of these mediums last month, the first month of mass production. It will be the end of 1942 before we produce 1,000 tanks a month. How long will it take to produce say, 40,000 mediums needed? Four years at least on the present schedule.

First, and right now the British need heavy bombers. Roosevelt has tried to throw all the pressure possible into bomber production, but it will be June, 1943, before we are producing 500 heavy bombers a month under the existing OPM schedule. We will only average 30 to 40 a month for the remainder of the year under the existing OPM schedule. The Nazis are now producing 200 a month according to figures current in this government.

HOLD EVERYTHING

"The big dummy only got his promotion by marrying the general's daughter!"

The British have the men ready to fly these ships. Their aviation school in Canada is the talk of all who have seen it. They have doubled their flier-production schedule twice since the training fields started.

But with 30 to 40 big bombers a month (not all of which they will get) they will only be able to annoy the Nazis. Not to pay back the attacks on London.

From what little of this I have been able to gather here, the officials who have this program are spending most of their time trying to convince Roosevelt they were right in all they have done. They are always trying to justify themselves and their actions, rather than devoting their thought and energy to keeping up with an ever-changing war situation. They have limited their goal to their former decisions.

It looks as if they will have to lift their own frozen vision, or officials with a wider vision will have to be brought in.

WANT-AD ROMANCE

BY TOM HORNER

CHAPTER VII

$50 REWARD will be paid for information as to the present address of Hans Stadt, former resident of this city, now believed to be in Texas. It is important that Mr. Stadt be contacted immediately. Box K501.

KAY watched a workman lay fireproof shingles over the patched hole in the laboratory roof. Below him, in the rebuilt room, Joe and Ted—drafted as an assistant and thoroughly enjoying it—were trying to solve the puzzle of Wondrosoap. There would be no more explosions. Joe had taken care of that. The acid was carefully locked in a cabinet, well away from the warehouse full of Wondrosoap. And Joe was careful, now, not to leave open cans of Wondrosoap around where spilled reagents might drop into them.

She pondered Joe's discovery. Was it just one of those "lucky accidents" that turn failure into fortune, or had Tim Donovan fully realized all the properties of his product? Hans Stadt might supply the answer.

If they could find Hans Stadt. Although the old German chemist had lived for years within walking distance of Donovan's factory, no one seemed to know of where he had gone. A neighbor said he was a widower, that he had gone some place in Texas to visit his children. He might have heard of Tim Donovan's death, decided to remain in the west.

An increasing fear troubled Kay. Perhaps her father had not known of Wondrosoap's explosive properties, perhaps he had envisioned it only as the cleaner he claimed it to be. Had Hans Stadt changed the formula, prepared this gigantic arsenal of potential destruction for some foreign sabotage ring?

But her father could not have been misled that easily. He knew chemistry as much as Hans Stadt. This cleaner was his last, his greatest dream.

Kay was glad that she had warned Joe and Ted and Mary not to mention the fact that Wondrosoap had exploded. Even Mike Flynn and the other attorneys believed that the blast was only a laboratory accident. To reveal Wondrosoap as a super-explosive now might bring government agents, restrictions, even confiscation of her property.

Better, too, not to mention any of her fears, even to Ted, until there was some word from Hans Stadt. Then they might be able to trap members of the ring—if such existed.

There should be some trace of Hans Stadt soon. Mike Flynn was advertising in papers all over the country. All she could do was wait.

DAYS dragged. Joe went on with his experiments but there were afternoons when the four of them—Ted and Kay, Joe and Mary—went picnicking, tried fishing. And there were nights for dancing. She loved this new freedom and her friends.

Everything might have been perfect had Kay been able to forget her worries. And if they could have located Hans Stadt.

The advertisements produced a few false leads and Mike Flynn flew to California to check on the most promising, but returned alone. The man was a chemist, his name was Stadt, but he had never worked with Tim Donovan. Kay was about ready to give up the search.

Then Hans Stadt came home.

HE arrived suddenly, unannounced. Kay thought he was a workman, looking for a job, when he walked into the office. The old man's clothes were dusty, travelworn. He twisted a battered felt hat in his hands.

"You are Tim's daughter, no?" She jumped from the chair. "And you—?" she almost screamed. "I am Stadt, the chemist, I have come—"

"Ted! Joe! Mary!" Kay was shouting. They burst in from the lab. "He's here! He's here! Hans has come back!"

There was no possibility that this man had betrayed her father, no possibility that he could be a foreign agent or even remotely connected with any sabotage plot. Kay knew that instinctively, as she listened to him.

He had been living with his son on a wheat farm. A neighbor had seen Kay's ad, but the newspaper had disappeared and the neighbor's memory of details was hazy. Old Hans got one idea clear. He was needed here. His daughter needed him. He set out at once, hitchhiked more than a thousand miles.

Of course he knew about Katie. Hadn't Tim talked of nothing else and how they were going to make a million dollars for her? She was like a daughter to Hans, too, he said.

"Why did you go away?" Ted demanded.

"Tim said everything was complete," Stadt answered. "We would wait. I wanted to see my boy, my grandchildren. I heard that Tim had died. Read it in the paper. My boy needed money for a combine. I bought it with my savings for him. I knew when you wanted me, you would send for me. I knew I would come. I am here."

Kay realized that Ted and Joe were waiting for her to ask Stadt about Wondrosoap. How much should she tell him? The old man talked on.

"Did you help Dad make Wondrosoap?" she asked at last.

"Oh, yah, yah. We made a million cans of it. Plenty to last."

"How did you make it?" Joe asked. "What's in it?"

"Not much. A little glycerine, a little cotton, a little mineral oil, some inert material, and an emulsifier—"

Joe nodded. "Yes. Go on—"

"And a little of the formula," the chemist concluded. "You add that last—well, almost last. Then you let it jell and run it through the canner."

"The formula? What is the FORMULA?" Joe tried to keep his voice calm.

"I don't know," Stadt answered.

It was as if a full can of Wondrosoap had exploded in their faces. They had counted so on Hans Stadt being able to tell them everything about the cleaner-explosive, and he knew no more than they did—if as much.

"Don't you know what was in it?" Kay asked. "Surely you must have mixed it, or helped Dad. We have to know—"

"The formula was Tim's secret. Not even me would he tell. He mixed it himself, kept it locked up all the time. I did not try to find out. Tim had discovered it. The formula belongs to him and to Miss Katie."

"A catalytic agent," Joe murmured. "Something we probably never heard of. But it does the trick!"

"Is there any way of finding out what this formula is, how it is made, Mr. Stadt?" Kay pleaded.

"Of course, of course." The old German smiled at them. "Tim knew about his bad heart. He wrote everything down for you, told me where he had hidden it. You'll find everything you want to know in the old washstand in his bedroom."

"The old washstand?"

"Then a silence."

"I'm going washstand hunting."

Ted broke in. "I'm going to corner the market on old washstands."

"There are thousands of them."

"But only one with that formula in it. And we'll get that one back."

Kay hoped he was right. But it was so easy to imagine someone else finding those papers, destroying them. And if someone had, the secret of Tim Donovan's discovery might be lost forever.

WANTED: OLD OAK WASHSTANDS. Will pay $5 each. Bring to Wondrosoap factory or address Box 206K.

TED was right. He did corner the washstand market.

"Lucky you remembered it was oak," he told Kay as they refused a solid walnut antique. "Now if you can just remember some more identifying details."

"But the buyer may have changed it," Mary wailed. "He could have put on new hardware and painted it. How can we recognize it?"

"And how will we know if it has the papers in it?" Kay put in. "Hans says they are nailed in a secret panel in the back."

"We'll just have to buy 'em and bust 'em," Ted decided. "There'll be a lot of $5 washstands reduced to kindling before we get through."

Joe Benton supplied the money. "I'm in on this thing, too," he said. "I'm going to find that catalyst or grow old trying. And I'm not doing it for you, Kay. This stuff may work with other chemicals, too. Your dad may have made one of chemistry's biggest discoveries. We'll probably get a Nobel prize on it."

IT was Joe, too, who decided that Hans Stadt should be told that they had discovered, accidentally and with a minimum of damage, that Wondrosoap would explode, violently. They found the old chemist putting in the lab.

"Mr. Stadt," Kay began, "you've probably wondered why we're so anxious to find this formula Dad discovered. It's not only that we want to make more of the product. We've a lot of it on hand..."

Hans nodded, waited for her to continue.

"We tried selling Wondrosoap as a cleaner, and we had a little bad luck."

The old German laughed. "It ate holes in clothing, no?"

"Why, yes!" Kay was surprised. "And it took paint off wood and metal, no?"

"Then you and Dad knew it would do those things. It isn't really a cleaner?"

"Yes, we knew that."

"Did you know," Benton interrupted

Knacks Defeat Maytown, 5 to 2, in Labor Day Game

QUOTE AND UNQUOTE
In the 1941 Football Annual on page 65 you'll read about the Iowa Teachers of the North Central conference: "It's done not with mirrors, but with sophomores. This does Buck Starbeck fairly answer anxious alumni who point to the 13 vacancies made by departed lettermen. The Pedagogues' crop of able beginners is unusually large, and rawhide tough. Four appear likely to shove many of the 13 returning veterans out of starting positions. They are hasty Gene Goodville, who once more will make ball-carrying a part of the quarterback's assignment; Ira Lund, a towering end; Don Barnhart, a rock-throwing fullback; and Bud Ives, the standard answer to Boss Buck's 'Frank Panasci'." Barnhart, you know, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Barnhart of 124 Boyd street and earned his gridiron medals as a member of the Dixon high school football team a few seasons ago. Iowa State Teachers college is located at Cedar Falls and the grid-headers are known in the North Central conference as the "Panthers". Included among the opponents are Creighton university, North Dakota State and two other Cedar Falls schools, Morningside college and Simpson college. This is young Barnhart's second year at Iowa Teachers having transferred there from Drake university last year.

LOCALS AVERAGE FORMER LOSSES IN HOLIDAY TILT

Frey Allows Only Five Hits in Morning Game

It took the first of the month for the Knacks to turn over a new leaf and they celebrated the Labor Day holiday yesterday by rolling up their sleeves and going to work at Maytown. In the morning game of the homecoming celebration the local club molded a 5 to 2 victory over their hosts, a team which had previously defeated the Knacks in early June and again in late July.

It was the Knacks' first game since August 10 and represented their sixth victory in a season of 14 games.

With Frey—formerly of Mt. Morris' team—on the mound the Knacks held the Maytowners to five scattered hits while they themselves collected eight raps off the hurling of Rocknowski whose name has a familiar La-Salle ring to it.

The first run of the game was scored in the third frame when Martinus singled for the Knacks and Studzinski walked. The former scored after Rucker's rap into center field.

Three runs scored for the locals in the fourth inning on a walk and singles by Welty, Martinus, Studzinski and Miller—all in a row.

The Maytowners came through with two runs in the last of the same inning when Sweeney was safe on an error by the pitcher and Negro got the only home run of the ball game.

Fifth Inning
Kasik doubled for the hosts in the fifth, but failed to score. In the first of the sixth the Knacks picked up one more run, their last, on two errors, one by the shortstop and the other by the catcher.

Rucker's single in the seventh was the Knacks' last hit. Welty drove out a single for Maytown in the last of the ninth, but with one out, he was retired when the next two batters whiffed.

Winning pitcher Frey walked two and struck out 11 for an excellent mound performance. Losing hurler Rocknowski walked five and fanned nine.

Next Sunday the Knacks will play the undefeated Lee team, champions of the Tri-County league, in a game here at Reynolds field.

Holiday Brings Plum Hollow Meet Near the Windup

Plum Hollow's golf tournament is now in the stage where you can name anyone of the survivors of the three flights and not miss the champion very far. By this time next week there won't be any doubt.

During the holiday week end the local course had more golfers than week-old fly paper has flies and they had to move over to make room. In the Class A flight Emerson Rorer defeated Ed Worley, 3 up, and will now play Fred Reis in a semi-final match on Wednesday afternoon. The winner of the Reis-Rorer match will play Robert Feldkirchner for the title.

In their week end match Worley was one-up at the end of the first nine but lost three holes on the next series. Their scores:

TENNIS TOURNAY AT FOREST HILLS STILL WIDE OPEN

No Stand-Out Among the Men Like Don Budge

BY GALEY TALBOT
New York, Sept. 2—(AP)—National Tennis championships go into their fourth session at Forest Hills today, still as wide open as a crap game at a salesman's convention.

Nothing has happened yet to give any clear indication of the eventual winner either in the men's or women's division. The top-seeded men have not been overly impressive in winning their early matches, and several of the featured women have been downright lucky to scrape through against opposition that did not figure to extend them.

In other words, there is no stand-out among the men like Don Budge was a few years ago, and nothing to indicate that another Alice Marble is lurking just over the women's horizon. But this does not appear to be cutting down the size of the galleries, as witness the 5,000 or more who watched the boys and girls through yesterday's long, hot afternoon.

Gallery Attractions
If anything were needed to emphasize the lack of a sure-fire gallery attraction, it was well pointed out by the fact that such a pair of non-championship possibilities as Bryan Grant, Jr., of Atlanta and Pancho Segura of Ecuador were permitted to occupy the coveted stadium court most of the afternoon, to the obvious and complete satisfaction of the crowd. It is doubtful that a half-dozen fans quit the engrossing scramble between Grant and Segura to go and watch the defending champion, Don McNeill, subdue his man on an outside court.

In other words, the fans this year are aware that there is no great, outstanding star to watch, and they are having a bale of fun just relaxing and wondering what will happen next. They probably got more enjoyment out of watching Grant out-tumble and finally beat the little South American gamecock by marathon scores of 6-4, 8-6, 4-6, 5-7, 6-2 than they would have from a deathless struggle between two heavyweights.

Seeded No. 1
At this point, with half of the men's field through the third round, Bobby Riggs would have to be picked as the probable recipient of the championship cup. Bobby, who won it two years ago and was seeded No. 1 this time, has been more impressive than either Frank Kovacs or McNeill.

Bobby used to loaf through the early rounds, but this time he is playing every point for everything he is worth and fairly overwhelming his opponents. Yesterday he skinned Frank Bowden, 6-1, 8-3, 6-2.

In the women's department, both Pauline Betz and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, seeded No. 1 and No. 2, respectively, have had a terrible time getting as far as they are.

TAIL TALE
The week's exaggeration prize goes to Walter Stewart's tale of the Chicago taxi driver who insisted that the Chicago Bears rode out to the All-Star game one man to a cab because the "hacks" wouldn't hold no more."

Fred Apostoli gives the navy credit for giving him a "new grip on life" and he thinks he'll be back fighting the top-rank mid-weights by mid-winter. . . . Harry Frank, kid brother of Minnesota's George, may enter Northwestern this fall.

Of the 9,600,688 miles of highways in the world, the Americas lead with 3,975,421 miles. Europe has 3,501,784. Asia, 1,185,472. combined Australia, New Zealand and Oceania have 527,739 miles and Africa 410,282 miles.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE MAY BECOME WILD WEST EVENT

Cards Win Doubleheader To Stretch Winning Streak to Seven

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The same subway that goes to Ebbets field in Brooklyn also runs to Coney Island, and there are about as many shidshows at one stop as at the other.

But the people who have been rushing to the circus at Ebbets field are beginning to wonder whether the main show may be in the other direction—St. Louis.

The Cardinals captured a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday with comparative ease, 5-3, and 6-3, to stretch their current winning streak to seven straight games, while the Brooklyn Dodgers had a terrible time winning a 15-inning marathon from the Boston Braves, 6-5, and then escaping with a 2-2 six-inning tie in the nightcap.

This pushed St. Louis a half game in front in the feverish National League pennant race with 83-45 for 648 compared with Brooklyn's 83-46 and .643.

The Dodgers' tie was rescheduled for today—and if Brooklyn should win with St. Louis idle the margin between the two rivals would be reduced again to .002.

The Dodgers' debacle in losing a doubleheader Saturday to the New York Giants and the difficulty they had yesterday with the seventh-place Braves did nothing to increase the confidence of their fans.

Four-Hour Opener
Dolph Camilli carried them to victory in the four-hour opener. He made five hits, tied the score in the eighth inning with his 29th home run, tied it again with a double in the 11th and won it with a single in the 15th. Darkness permitted only six innings of play in the afterpiece and old Fred Fitzsimmons pitched two-hit ball over this distance. But short-stop Peevee Reese had another attack of the jitters and let in two runs. The Dodgers barely were able to come from behind before the game was called.

At St. Louis, before 34,812 fans, the biggest crowd in two years at Sportsman's Park, Ernie White held Pittsburgh to nine hits and allowed no runs after the first inning in the opening contest. A homer by Jim Brown put St. Louis ahead in the sixth and White himself tripled to bat in the final run in the eighth. Afterward Howard Pollet, the kid sensation from the Texas League, pitched a six-hitter for his third victory and drove in two runs with a single.

In the other National League action the Giants swept a double bill from the poor Phillies and Cincinnati split with the Chicago Cubs. New York's first victory, 7-2, was achieved on four-hit hurling by Bob Carpenter and a five-run seventh inning in which Joe Moore and Mel Ott each hit two-run homers. Ott also smacked a home run, his 27th in the nightcap, and drove in three tallies, but it took another circuit clout, Babe Young's 21st, to win, 4-3, in the tenth inning.

Reds and Cubs Split
Paul Derringer beat Jake Mooty in a duel in which each allowed six hits as the Reds topped Chicago, 2-1, but the Cubs came back to take the nightcap, 5-4, on Phil Cavarretta's triple in the tenth. Vallie Eaves and Tot Presnell combined in a five-hit pitching performance.

The New York Yankees divided a doubleheader with the Athletics at Philadelphia and now need three more victories to clinch the American Joe Gordon and Charley Keller bombed the Bombers to a 13-11 win in the first encounter, but Bill Beckman muffed them, 5-1, on 11 hits in the second session.

The second-place Boston Red Sox raided the Washington Senators twice. Ted Williams hit two home runs as the Sox took the first tilt, 13-9, and collected his 34th in the second game, which Boston won 10-2 on five-hit hurling by Joe Dobson.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the bruised and tottering Cleveland Indians twice, 7-5, and 4-3. Lefty Thornton Lee scored his 18th victory in the opener, yielding 13 hits but knocking in the winning runs himself with a single. John Rigney kept nine hits scattered over 12 innings in the nightcap.

The Detroit Tigers tore the St. Louis Browns apart 9-5 and 16-8. Rudy York hit three homers in the first engagement and Barney McCosky and Bruce Campbell each hit one both with two mates aboard, in the second game.

The Labor Day program drew 176,929 fans in eight cities.

PEORIA DIESELS ARE STILL ILLINOIS SOFTBALL CHAMPS

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 2—(AP)—Still softball champions of Illinois are the Peoria Diezels.

They defeated Aurora Phenix, 2 to 0, in the championship game of the 1941 tournament last night. In an afternoon semifinal contest they swamped Strator Owens-Illinois Glass, 15 to 0, while Aurora was edging out Danville Sam Whites, 3 to 1.

The tourney winner is entitled to go to the national meet at Detroit, Mich., in mid-September.

Last year oil companies gave out 150,000,000 road maps which cost them $3,000,000.

protection of their lives and their properties. The state of Illinois is able to pay dividends to its citizens in the form of service. Another of our mottoes is to give a dollar's worth of service for every dollar's worth of taxes which are paid by the people. I am here today to visit with the people of this section of our great state of Illinois and to find out their views relating to the improvement of this historic highway, and the subjects they are most interested in.

"We are here to make a first hand study and research affecting this community and those other communities we will visit today. After this study and research has been made and we have obtained our direct ideas of the problems, we will endeavor to work out the best solution possible of these problems. This is my idea of the best solution of the problem."

Comments

Green commented upon the intense interest that has been shown in the proposed improvement and modernization of the Lincoln Highway since he assumed the duties as chief executive of Illinois. He commended the representative groups of citizens in the various communities along the route, for the stalwart representation sent from this section of the state, and the interest in the affairs of the state as he had observed on this trip.

Several cars left Dixon at 7 o'clock this morning, going to Geneva where Governor Green was met and started on his inspection tour. He was accorded enthusiastic receptions by large gatherings in every community along the route. About 200 from Dixon had made reservation for the luncheon at the Sterling Coliseum at noon and a delegation from Whiteside county came to Dixon to meet the governor and join the automobile caravan which left Dixon at 12:30 o'clock.

It was over U. S. 330 that Green started his more or less leisurely inspection of state parks, hospitals, prisons, educational institutions and highway projects. The tour will cover the length and breadth of the state in a mixture of informal sightseeing excursions, conferences and dinners with two or three afternoons of golf thrown in, one of them at the Dixon Country club this afternoon.

Tour Non-Political

Officially, the tour was non-political. No formal speeches or political meetings were scheduled, but administration aides said the governor undoubtedly would meet prominent Republicans and party organization leaders along the route.

In the governor's party for the statewide tour were several officials, among them Green's secretary, John Chapman, and Gilbert E. Keebler, administrative auditor. They declared, Roosevelt now is "flirting with bolshevism to use it for his own ends."

The spokesmen said there was a discrepancy in the Roosevelt utterances: Emphasis on the rights of workers, in phrases directed toward Moscow, and on the other hand, an expression of principles, such as religious freedom, "which bolshevism can never acknowledge."

The Germans said the president forgot to mention "the most important freedom—the right to work."

past of expanding their territorial waters to bring all water routes leading into Vladivostok within their sovereignty. The extent of the now proposed safety zone was not disclosed.

Calls for Settlement

The Asia Development Federation included the proposal in a resolution calling for speedy settlement of the war in China and establishment of the Japanese-enslaved "co-prosperity sphere."

"The United States of late has unreasonably tightened economic pressure against Japan," the resolution asserted.

"This attempt on one hand to check our activities and on the other to supply materials to nations hostile to our axis powers evidently is to put the European war on a long-time basis."

Jap Officials Silent

Authoritative Japanese declared that Roosevelt's Labor Day speech showed that the Atlantic agreement between him and British Prime Minister Churchill had now become the highest foreign policy of the United States.

The foreign office spokesman declined for the present to comment, but the Japan Times & Advertiser, considered a mouthpiece of the foreign office, noted the president's remark that Americans are not a warlike people, and commented:

"There are other means of aggression than the use of armies."

The newspaper said that United States aggressiveness in the Orient dated back to acquisition of the Philippines and charged that "warlike methods have been applied to prevent the attainment of a peaceful China."

13-Year-Old Auto Driver Crushed to Death in Accident

Lawrence Scholl, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scholl, route 1, Dixon, was crushed to death in an automobile crash which occurred at the Heagy corners on the Daysville road, about four miles east of Dixon, Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The crash victim was driving east on the gravel road with his father and at the intersection the Scholl car was reported to have been struck by another machine driven by Arnold Spangler, 19, of Nachusa. Miss Helen Keller of this city was a passenger in the Spangler car, which was traveling south on the gravel road.

The force of the crash threw the Scholl car against a concrete culvert headwall, after which it rolled over in a ditch, pinning the youthful driver beneath the side of the machine. It was necessary to secure a wrecker and raise the wrecked machine before the body could be removed. Assistant Supervisor Leon Garrison heard the crash and hastened to the scene and removed the injured persons to the Dixon hospital. The crash victim was believed to have sustained a broken neck, which caused his death some time after the collision. His body was removed to the Staples funeral home where Coroner Frank E. Nangle will conduct an inquest at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The victim's father sustained cuts and bruises and Arnold Spangler and his companion, Miss Keller, were only slightly injured, both cars being considerably damaged.

Funeral services will be held at the parents' home at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and at 2:00 at the East Jordan church.

Barn, Waste Paper Burn—

Fire, believed to have started from spontaneous combustion, destroyed an old barn on East River street at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The building was formerly used as a stable at the Sam Watson ice houses, and was filled to the roof with baled paper belonging to George Brown, who had planned to ship the contents Friday.

Dense clouds of black smoke which poured high into the air attracted a large crowd to the scene, where the fire department prevented the flames from spreading to other property. A large pile of baled paper on the outside of the structure was also fuel for the flames.

Polish Minister of Finance Tells How He Saved Treasure

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 2.—(AP)—A bizarre tale of 15 non-descript trucks which wandered through Europe for nearly six weeks carrying $75,000,000 in gold reserve—was told today by Ignacy Matczewski, former Polish Minister of Finance.

Matczewski, who arrived on the American Export liner Ekcam-bion, said through an interpreter that he decided to try to save the gold when the German armies were literally battering the gates of Warsaw in September, 1939.

The golden treasure, weighing about 75 tons in bullion and coins, finally was turned over to the Polish government-in-exile, then situated at Angers, France, but not before anxious days and nights had passed as the strange caravan followed the refugee trail south.

Final Fate Unknown

Matczewski and Henryk-Flory, the minister of industry and commerce—who also was aboard the Ekcam-bion—loaded the gold into 15 old trucks and with a group of followers started out of Warsaw with the flood of refugees from the Polish capital. That was Sept. 7, 1939.

Avoiding German troops as much as possible and mingling with ordinary refugees, Matczewski and his trucks made their way down through Rumania, into Turkey and Syria, thence to France and Spain and finally back into France again, arriving there October 14.

Matczewski said he did not know what has happened to the golden store after he turned it over to officials of the government-in-exile.

at the Dixon theater. Compton's claim to having the most beautiful girl within a 50 mile radius was declared substantiated in last evening's selection, when two candidates from that place entered the semi-finals. Miss Virginia Ogilvie and Miss Vivian Cook of Compton and Miss Marjorie Sturgeon of Trim-umph were declared the winners in the Mandata selection.

Scouts Will Assist

Girl and Boy Scout organizations of Dixon will add their efforts toward making Louella Parsons Day one of the greatest days in Dixon's history, and to assist in raising a fund for the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital. President Harry Bates of the Lions club has named Earl Kennedy and Paul Armstrong to supervise the Scout activities and President Walter Knack of the Chamber of Commerce has named Mrs. W. A. McNichols to head the Girl Scout program.

This committee of three members will distribute to the Scout organizations special emblems announcing the Louella Parsons Day. It is the intention to place these in every home in Dixon, business places or automobiles in advance of the event. A charge of 25 cents is to be made for the emblem, the Scout organization to receive five cents and the remaining 20 cents to go to the hospital fund.

To Receive Rewards

The salesmanship efforts of the Scout groups is to be rewarded with prizes for the individuals and troops recording the highest sales.

On the afternoon of Sept. 15 at the Loveland Community House, the Girl and Boy Scout organizations will appear in uniform and Miss Parsons will receive the proceeds from the sale of the emblems. Miss Parsons at this time will present the special awards for the sale of the emblems. Ronald "Dutch" Reagan will present the Boy Scout awards and Jane Wyman (Mrs. Reagan) will make the presentation of the Girl Scout awards.

At the banquet at the Masonic Temple in the evening Miss Parsons will present the proceeds to the hospital and publicly thank the Scout organizations for their cooperation.

1,500 Homeless, 2 Dead in Floods of Wisconsin Rivers

Eu Claire, Wis., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Ravaging flood waters, which left 1,500 families homeless in northwestern Wisconsin and caused two deaths and damage estimated in the millions, swept into the lowlands of the Chippewa and Wisconsin river valleys today, inundating rural areas after passing the crest in the more heavily populated centers.

The crest of the Chippewa flood, caused by record rains, bore down on the village of Durand, 16 miles from the Mississippi river. The river was 3.3 feet above flood stage there at 8 a. m., with the crest expected late today. Parts of the village were inundated.

The cities of Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls felt the full force of the swirling waters last night. At Eau Claire, the river was 22 feet above low water mark, the highest since 1884. About 30 city blocks were under water. Heavy losses occurred in mercantile and jobbing establishments. The river formed a half-mile wide lake at Chippewa Falls, about 10 miles above Eau Claire. Normally it is 300 feet wide there.

Eastward 100 miles, the waters of the Wisconsin river subsided slowly after causing considerable damage in the area of Wausau, Schofield and Rothschild. Destruction to mill property was set at $100,000 alone.

Waters of the White and Bad rivers in the far northwestern part of the state also receded today after breaking a dam at Mellen. The entire population of the Indian village at Odanah was forced to flee.

Alaska has produced more than $750,000 worth of minerals since it was acquired by the United States.

New inventions pertaining to defense are being submitted to the Federal government at the rate of 100 a day.

Russia's estimated coal reserves total about half those of the United States.

Eastern Gasoline Service Stations Consider Closing

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A general stoppage of service at most of the eastern seaboard's 100,000 gasoline stations is held out as a possibility unless the government insists the dealers a "living margin".

This was predicted by Benjamin L. Jacoby, head of the Associated Gasoline Retailers of Philadelphia and vicinity, who said such a holiday would be discussed along with gasless Sundays by the eastern states conference of gasoline retailers opening here today.

"The dealers are going to protest all phases of this curtailment to Washington, to President Roosevelt himself if necessary," declared Jacoby.

Consider Closing

He said station operators were being driven to consider closing by new government regulations effective yesterday under which stations from Maine to Florida were put on a September gasoline quota 15 per cent under their July sales to counteract the oil shortage.

Asserting Acting Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies, who fixed the quota, "doesn't know the first thing about the gasoline business", Jacoby claimed July was a poor month because of vacations and that by basing the quota on a month of low sales the actual reduction would be about 25 per cent.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson set a maximum fair price of 18¢ cents here—four cents above tank wagon rates—although some charged more.

626 Persons Killed

accounted for the remainder.

Among the downstate fatalities were these:

Glen Copenhaver, 20, Mattoon, died yesterday of injuries suffered Sunday in an automobile accident near Effingham.

Charles McRoy, 53, was killed in Centuria last night when his bicycle and a truck collided.

A 23-year-old Michigan State College basketball player, Thomas J. Welsharth of Cleveland, O., drowned yesterday in Lake Marie near Antioch after a speedboat overturned.

Ethyl Mae Pittman, 19, was fatally injured at Danville when an automobile struck a Big Four freight engine at a street crossing last night. Two others were hurt.

Mrs. Albin Mittelacher, 75, of Oak Park, died in an Elmhurst hospital today of injuries suffered yesterday when she was struck by an automobile at an intersection west of Elmhurst.

British Air Force

Latour, were among ten persons aboard a transport plane of the RAF ferry command given up for lost today by the air ministry.

The ferry command at first announced that the Olympic official himself was aboard the plane, but the Belgian embassy later confirmed that it was the son, who is assistant military attaché of the Belgian embassy in London and son-in-law of James Clement Dunn, political advisor to U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The Americans were Capt. S. Picking of the U. S. Navy, a passenger, and Flight Engineer Charles Alvan Spence, of Little Neck, L. I. N. Y., a member of the crew.

Left America Sunday

The plane left North America (presumably Canada) yesterday for England. In announcing that the craft was missing today the air ministry said that the next of kin of those aboard had been informed.

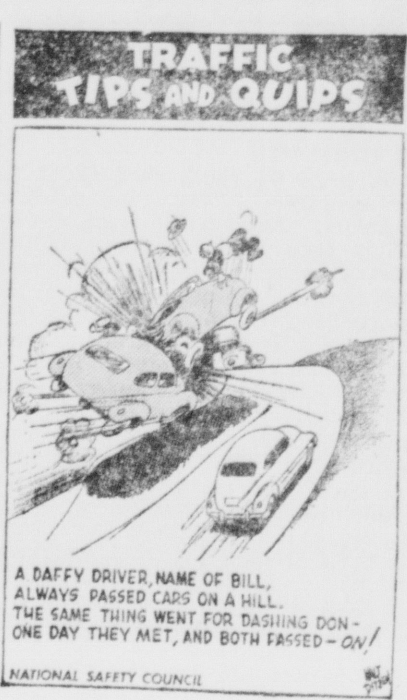

One of the passengers on the missing plane was Dr. Mark Benjamin, of Wembley, Eng., of the Central Scientific Office in Washington.

The list of missing also included: Prof. R. Mowat, Bristol, British library of information, E. Taylor, Farnborough, Hampshire, Eng., principal technical officer, British air ministry, Col. L. P. Wrangham, imperial army.

The crew: Capt. Kenneth Garden, Coggie, Sydney, Australia.

First Officer Geoffrey L. Panes, Tonbridge, Kent, England.

Radio Officer Samuel Walter Sydenham, Edmonton, Alberta.

School Bell Rings for 1,250,000 of Illinois' Pupils

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 2.—(AP)—The school bell rang today for some 1,250,000 Illinois boys and girls, ending their three months summer vacation and marking the beginning of fall term.

Joe A. Wieland, state superintendent of public instruction, said that most of the state's primary and secondary school students returned to their classes today but a few will not begin their schoolwork until next Monday and some in the southern part of the state have already gotten one week's work completed.

The completion of this work, along with the usual miscellaneous repairs, places both buildings in excellent condition.

All children who are or will be six years of age or more by January 31, 1942 enrolled at their respective schools at 9 o'clock this morning. Children who reside on the north side of the railroad tracks enrolled at the Central school and those who reside south of the railroad tracks or between them enrolled at the Lincoln school. After routine matters were settled, children were dismissed early during both the morning and afternoon sessions.

At the time of enrolling, pupils were informed regarding the books, workbooks and other materials that will be necessary for them to have for this school year. Parents are urged to provide their children with these books and materials as soon as possible because a child may be seriously handicapped and his progress impeded if there is a delay in his securing these supplies.

Parents are advised to give special attention to matters regarding the health of their children. Children who are handicapped by physical defects that have not been corrected, or by poor health in general, seldom make proper progress during the school term. Mrs. Roy Hegland's Play House nursery school and Kindergarten will open for the fall and winter term on Monday, September 8. Miss Ruth Rowley will be Mrs. Hegland's assistant.

Defiance of Hitler Voiced by President and Labor in Talks

Speeches on Labor Day Pledge Destruction of Nazism in World

By The Associated Press
Led by President Roosevelt, the spokesmen of the working men and women of the United States used Labor Day speeches to voice uncompromising defiance of Hitlerism and to pledge unceasing efforts for its destruction.

The overtones of the war were dominant in observance of the holiday. Whereas in bygone years labor was reminded of its gains the message yesterday laid their stress on the heritage labor was called on to defend and on labor's tremendous role in accelerating the flow of defense and lease-lend arms production.

Because of its pronouncements international affairs, Roosevelt's speech from his Hyde Park, N. Y. home commanded major attention.

Roosevelt categorically ruled out the suggestion - - advanced by several of those hostile to administration foreign policy - - that he approach Hitler to seek a negotiated peace in Europe's war.

Such a role, he said scornfully, would make him "This - of course, I have rejected - - I reject it again."

For the axis, the president had these words:

"Speaks for People"
"I know that I speak the conscience and determination of the American people when I say that we shall do everything in our power to crush Hitler and his nazi forces."

As for American rights he believes to be "Imperiled", he proclaimed flatly:

"There has never been a moment in our history when Americans were not ready to stand up as free men and fight for their rights."

Roosevelt used his address to reiterate what he has emphasized before: that production still leaves much to be desired; that a greater output must be reached if the axis is to be worsted; that all private aims and interests must be subordinated to that end.

Although the course of Europe's war imparted a special gravity to Labor Day exercises, the day managed to retain its holiday character.

Somber Side of Holiday

The somber side of the holiday weekend was the heavy death toll from motor fatalities and other 514 fatalities of 1940's Labor Day and climbed above the 600 mark.

The burden of much of Roosevelt's address matched earlier talks made by Sidney Hillman, labor's associate director in the Office of Production Management; by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and by James B. Carey, secretary of the Congress of Industrial Organizations who spoke for Philip Murray, CIO's 11 president.

They all participated in an hour long radio broadcast which spanned the Atlantic to bring in Ernest Bevin, British Minister of Labor, who sent the greetings of English workers and appealed specifically for a greater flow of military supplies from the United States.

Axis Reaction Prompt

Axis reaction to Roosevelt's speech was rather prompt. In Rome, which frequently has preceded Berlin in such comment recently, fascist circles responded by quoting Hitler's words at the start of the conflict two years ago—"It will be a war of life or death"—and by adding that the axis would triumph.

In Washington many of the congressmen who remained in the Capital during the holiday found much to applaud in the president's words, but Senator Nye (R-Nd.), an administration opponent, dismissed the speech as the "usual appeal to the fears of the American people".

Labor leaders, meanwhile, could point with pride to the fact that, although most of the country's workers were enjoying a holiday, men and women in a number of vital defense plants reported on the job as usual to keep the arms output rolling.

MILK PRICE ADVANCED

Springfield, Ill., Set. 2—(AP)—The price of milk to consumers here rose one cent today, from 13 to 14 cents a quart. The advance in price to dairy customers followed a hike of 26 cents per hundredweight—to $2.20—in the rate paid by Springfield's nine dairies to members of the Sangamon Farmers' Milk Cooperative for raw milk.

EX-CHECKER CHAMPE DEAD

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 2—(AP)—Charles Heffer, 81, former national checker champion, died yesterday. He was treasurer of the Chicago Department store here.

About 5,000 persons are employed by the bureau of printing and engraving in Washington.

Reserve of Public Work Established to Cushion Shock

Chicago, Sept. 2—(AP)—Charles P. Casey, state WPA administrator, announced today the establishment in Illinois of the Public Work Reserve—an agency designed to aid in cushioning the post-defense economic shock.

In announcing the new agency, Casey listed its specific objective as the creation of a "reservoir of needed public works to meet the after-defense needs of the people of the United States". The federal works agency and national resources planning board joined in formulating the plan.

Federal, state and local public officials were invited to list all public work determined necessary during several years in the future to "bring their improvements to an adequate level of public service".

State director of the agency, Casey said, will be Ross Caldwell, who will maintain offices in Chicago.

With WPA Funds

Funds for the work reserve will be provided by WPA.

Caldwell said that all types of projects for capital improvement would be included—conservation work, schools, sewage disposal plants, water supply facilities, streets, roads, bridges, public buildings, parks, waterways, housing, dams, state and county municipal institutions, hospitals as well as "larger long-range undertakings".

"This will be desirable work," he said, "and not made work and will be related not only to public needs but to plans of private industry for readjustment and future expansion."

Cake Judges' Decision Is Appealed Two Times

Judges of contests always have had their share of troubles from disgruntled contestants but, according to the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A., a high mark in such worries was reached in 1891 at a cake baking contest at the Sangamon county fair.

When the judges on that occasion chose for first prize an angel food cake with a dab of jelly spread on top, some 3,000 outraged cooks decided it was not a jelly cake at all.

To settle the matter, Delmonico, famous New York caterer, was appealed to, but his decision, about which history is silent, did not settle the dispute. A National Congress of Cooks was assembled at Springfield and, after final testing by the experts, delivered the opinion that the disputed cake was "really jelly cake and enough better than an ordinary cake to be worthy of the $500 prize piano."
